

WAS A MIXED AFFAIR

Trying to Explain in Court the Business Relations

OF DR. SHEPARD AND HARTMAN

Chancery Case Now on Trial in the Circuit Court to Unravel the Business of Both.

The chancery case begun by John Widdicombe, assignee of C. S. Hartman, vs. Alice G. Lockery and Mark Norris, is on trial before Judge Grove. The object of the suit was to get as much for the creditors of C. S. Hartman as the law will allow. During the time Dr. Shepard and C. S. Hartman had business relations they frequently forgot or neglected to record many transactions, which, in the complex business relations between the two, in time so mixed the rights of each that neither could tell "where he was at." When the assignment of Mr. Hartman came, he supposed his interests were very much greater than the assignee has been able to find. In order to have as much as possible the suit was brought. It was expected that the testimony of both Dr. Shepard and Mr. Hartman would be taken, but as death took Dr. Shepard, the court must make a decision on the evidence of Mr. Hartman. It will take the rest of the week for Mr. Hartman to explain his relations to Dr. Shepard.

Perhaps She Is Innocent. Emma Praxie, arrested last Wednesday night for larceny of a rustic chair, was in police court yesterday and presented a shocking appearance. She was clad in two blankets which she had taken from the jail. One she wrapped about her head and the other was held about her legs and body. She wore a pair of poor old slippers, but she had no stockings. She was old and withered, and had the appearance of a woman of 70, though she declared she was but 40 years old. Two sheets were missed from the bed on which she slept at the jail and were found by the police man closely wrapped about the old woman's body. She claimed she had $1,000 in a trunk in her house near the corner of Fulton and Second streets. The police searched the house, but found no money, but little clothing, no food and no fuel. It is believed that the woman is insane, and Judge Haggerty turned her over to the superintendent of the poor. It is said she has been living with Nat Kewey, a colored barber, who runs a little shop near the Boulevard on Cherry street.

Court Room. Gottlieb Walz began suit yesterday against H. P. McCormick, as executor of a note for $1,500, given by Jacob Eisenhardt, as administrator of the Frey estate. The note has been protested and Mr. McCormick is now asked to settle.

Christians Boho began suit in the circuit court against W. H. Kiera, whom she claims has an equal interest with herself in lot 3 of Davis, Turner & Carroll's addition, and will not settle with her. She asks for a partition of the property.

W. P. Innes has a mortgage of $4,000 on twenty-two lots on A. O. Cronier's addition to Grand Rapids. Mr. Innes began suit in the circuit court yesterday to foreclose.

The trial of the case of C. F. Sargent vs. the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad company, now on trial before Judge Adair, will probably last all the rest of the week.

Harry Eli wishes a divorce from Addie Eli on the ground of desertion. They were married in 1877 and have been separated six years.

Hung Hang and Sam Wing, the Chinese awaiting deportation, were admitted to bail in the United States court yesterday.

A jury in the superior court is trying the opening of Logan street from its present eastern terminus to Rural street.

John H. Cole has begun suit in the circuit court against Nelson Shaw and Charles Lochlin to recover $1,000 debt.

Quincey E. Baughney began suit to recover $480.86 from W. T. Lamoreaux company in the circuit court.

Frank J. Morse was fined $100 in the United States court yesterday for violation of the revenue laws.

Anetia J. Duley wishes a divorce from Daniel W. Duley, and asks the circuit court to aid her.

What Is Money

Weighted against that health it so often fails to buy? Does indeed. While we can none of us claim a total exemption from the greatest of all ills to which flesh is heir—ill health, we may do much to lessen the chances of incurring it, and this we do alone by the adoption of such sanitary measures as are to be found in daily exercise, regular hours, prudence in eating and drinking, and a wholesome diet, but also by resorting to judicious preventive medication when the system is threatened by a harmful influence. For instance, residents or sojourners in malarious localities should use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a defense against chills and fever, and persons who leave much out-of-door exposure should consider it as a safeguard against rheumatism. Travelers in tropical and malarious climates also as a means of averting liver complaint and constipation, and counteracting the debilitating influence of a torrid climate.

To accommodate the large number of people who will go from this city and adjoining towns to attend the dedication of the Michigan state building at the world's fair, on Saturday, April 23, the West Michigan railway has arranged for extra sleeping cars on the night train on Friday, 23d. Passengers should get off at Erie Park, that being the nearest stop to the fair grounds. The Hyde Park hotel for the Michigan commission. Extra sleeper will also be provided on Sunday night for those who wish to attend the opening of the exposition on May 1. Phone 1304 for berths via the Chicago & West Michigan. Geo. DeHaven, G. P. A.

DEDICATION OF MICHIGAN BUILDING.

A Wonderful Statement.

Proprietors of Dullam's Great German Remedies:

GENTLEMEN—I have for the past two years been troubled with a serious and very severe Liver and Stomach difficulty. Have had advice and medicine from our very best physicians and only to be temporarily relieved. Some of my friends persuaded me to try your Great German Remedy for the Blood, Stomach and Kidneys, and to my surprise, after using three bottles, I feel like a new man. If you desire you can use my name in print or by reference in any of the Grand Rapids, Michigan, papers, or any other papers in the states, to convince the afflicted that it is the best Blood, Liver and Kidney medicine on earth. I feel like a new man. Have lived here for over forty years.

My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing that would afford her any relief, and on a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. To our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regularly she was soon able to get up and attend to her house work. E. H. Johnson, of C. J.
